

The Wisconsin No Call list has allowed me to eat dinner with my family, take naps, and live a life free of unwanted solicitations. I do love that charities and political groups can still call me, however, banks and other companies that buy my information from third party companies cannot. Please do not allow the Wisconsin No Call List law to be revoked.